STORM OF PROTEST OVER RESOLUTION SAYS CLARKE

Delegate to National Elks' Convention Wires Commercial Club; New Mexico Received Some Advertising.

The Elks, in convention in Atlantic City, did not take kindly to the resolution introduced before that organization Thursday night, asking the R. P. O. E. to endorse statehood for New Mexico and Arizona. The failure of the Best People to endorse the resolution was not unexpected and when the result of the effort to have them take favorable action was announced in the Associated Press, nobody was surprised. The only object in getting the Elks to adopt the resolution was to bring before the public the fact that New Mexico is sincere and in earnest in her desire for statehood.

John Lee Clarke, delegate to the convention from Albuquerque Lodge No. 461, sent a night letter to Simon Stern, president of the Commercial Club yesterday outlining the details of the resolution's pronouncement. Mr. Clarke's telegram follows:

Atlantic City, N. J., July 14, 1911.—Simon Stern, President, Commercial Club, Albuquerque, N. M.

Statehood resolutions introduced in Grand Lodge last night during the reading of the resolutions a storm of protest arose and when reading was over, resolutions were taken by unanimous vote except nine. It was not the fault of the wording as Chas. Hinsbury of Dallas was the author.

JOHN LEE CLARKE.

Fast White Sox Shorted Shares Hit
Tanning Honors With McIntyre and Tannehill.

Being struck on the head with the ball, unconscious for a few days, and in the hospital and on the bench for more than a month, has apparently not had the effect of getting "Binger" Corhan, an Albuquerque boy, shortstop for the White Sox, in Chicago, back in the game. He came back Thursday against Boston. The Sox pulled in five hits during the nine innings. McIntyre and Tannehill got two each and Binger batted one, giving him a batting average for the game of .333, having been hit three times. Corhan got three put outs, no assists and no errors.

PRETTY SOUVENIRS FOR LADIES

Formal Opening of Remodeled Strong Furniture Store to Feature Great White Way Celebration Tonight.

A feature of the Great White Way celebration on Second street this evening will be the formal opening of the remodeled Strong Bros. furniture store at Second and Cooper. The Strong firm has expended approximately $10,000 on additions and improvements, and the establishment is now one of the most modern and completely equipped in the southwest.

The history of the strong business has been one of steady and rapid growth during a period of thirty years. It was established in February 1881 by O. W. and C. S. Strong, who came overland from Denver and established themselves in a building ten feet wide by twelve feet long. Since then the firm's quarters have been changed and enlarged four times, about 200 square feet of floor space being now in use. The present owners, as is well known, are Harry O. and Frank H. Strong, sons of O. W. Strong. A feature of the opening tonight will be the distribution of souvenirs among the ladies.

FOOLS NAMES AND FOOLS FACES ARE ALWAYS SEEN IN PUBLIC PLACES

Institution of Council in Elks' Lodge Room This Evening, With Charter Membership of Forty.

This is an old saying, says J. Sam. The cut of J. Sam appears in this issue at the end of the Great White Way. He may be crazy but it is not foolish. He was for the Great White Way and it happened. He is for passing Second street and it will happen. While J. Sam owns no real estate in Albuquerque he would like to. He says you don't have to be rich to be honest. It is the little fellow who boasts the rich man, and if the rich man prospers the little fellow will set his price. Of course Albuquerque has its groups rich men who are the dog in the manger. All towns have these drawbacks, but greater Albuquerque has just started. Watch us, boys. The Airline happens nightly.

Never can tell when you'll smash a finger or suffer a cut, horse, burn or scald. Be prepared. Dr. Thomas' Electric oil instantly relieves the pain—quidly cuts the wound.

There will be no collection taken up nor contributions solicited at the Y. W. C. A. mass meeting to be held in the Presbyterian church Monday night. No pledges of any kind will be asked and everybody is cordially invited to attend.

Attorney W. C. Hearock left at noon today for Gallup to attend to legal matters.

GATES PASSED A BAD NIGHT.

- Paris, July 15.—John W. Gates had a bad night, but rallied this morning and at noon his condition was about the same as it has been generally for two or three days.

Sleuth Charged With Kidnapping McNamaras Is In Europe His Attorney Says; Bond Is Not Forfeited.

(By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire)

Imperial, July 15.—Det. William J. Burns, who is under contract with the attorney for the kidnapped J. J. McNamara, did not appear in court today, the date set for Judge Mariano to examine either for or against the indemnity.

Henry Spain of northern New England said that the hearing was postponed until Saturday. The case was set on Friday, and in New York Court.

White unwilling to delay the investigation any longer than the time required for the interests of the kidnappers, and the gift of guaranteeing the return of the money to the kidnappers, he has agreed to the adjournment.

According to Prof. Dawson's story, he started with only $100, borrowing $100 from Peter Steiner in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., to help him care for several of the horses with which he came to the United States.

Steiner, the capital of Korea, was also visited as was Poughkeepsie, the "steel city," says the Professor.

The home of the royal family of Korea is a splendid residence, according to the professor, who gave a detailed description of the surroundings.

In Japan, he also taught, and visited Fusan, Kinshin, Yokohama and Tokyo, the four western cities for the opportunity of enjoying the beauty of the terraces and other treats in the Isle of Cherry blossoms.

Soon the capital of Korea was also visited as was Poughkeepsie, the "steel city," says the Professor.

The home of the royal family of Korea is a splendid residence, according to the professor, who gave a detailed description of the surroundings.

While in the latter country he visited the congress and was the recipient of many courtesies from the government. While in this place the professor was most stopped in the harbor and was given a royal welcome by New Zealanders.

India, Sumatra, Ceylon, Port Said, the Red Land were all visited during the trip. The speaker dwelt at length on Jerusalem, its present condition and customs, the home of the weeping women outside the walls of the city, etc. The town of Bethlehem was grandly described, and the ancient seat of learning, Athens, was most interestingly described.

Westminster Abbey, the London Tower and other British scenes of historic interest were followed by another one voyage, and arrival in New York, where the skyscrapers and modern巧 received a grateful contrast to the scenes of the Orient. He arrived in his home town in Holland, Michigan, after an absence of four years and with a record of having covered many thousand miles. Prof. Dawson left this morning for his home in Holland, Mich., whence he will return to September to teach in our schools.

SOCIALISTS SPEAKER HERE SUNDAY

Albuquerque, July 15.—A Socialist speaker here Sunday evening.

John F. Brantner, national organizer and leader for the Socialist party, will speak on Central avenue near Second street Sunday evening.

Mr. Brantner is said to be an eloquent and logical speaker and local Socialists hope to draw a good crowd to hear him.

Concerning the lecture, Prof. Dawson said: "An International organization with a membership of a million, costing six million dollars in the civilized nations of the world deserves notice. In the United States they are eighteen members of state legislatures, thirty-one mayors and 1,200 hundred and seventy-five minor officials and their vote reaches 600,000."

ROUND THE WORLD STORY BY DAMSON INTERESTING

Travel Lecture in Lutheran Church Last Night Attracted Big Crowd.

Preacher Saw Something to Be Seen.

A great number of people gathered in the Lutheran church last evening to hear a lecture delivered by Prof. William Dawson on the probability of finding "Adam the World" on $1000.

Having put the theory to rest himself, Prof. Dawson's exposition was exceptionally interesting and entertaining, and aroused in more than one mind the resolution to inquire into his example at some time.

According to Prof. Dawson's story,

he started with only $100, borrowing $100 from Peter Steiner in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., to help him care for several of the horses with which he came to the United States.

The Markets

WHEAT MARKET IS FIRMER IN TONE

Denial That Banks Had Begun Calling Loans Help Conditions; Ideal Weather for Big Crop.

(By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire)

Chicago, July 15.—Denials that there had been any calling of bank loans tended to give the wheat market today a steady tone. Ideal weather in the northwest and heavy rains, which may have received yesterday morning as the result of falling down a flight of stairs in the basement, sustained what was thought to have been received by the banks.

Heavy rains of yesterday night continued the rest of the day. Prof. Dawson's exposition was exceptionally interesting and entertaining, and aroused in more than one mind the resolution to inquire into his example at some time.
